Delmarva Youth Regional Football Combine Registration Form

What is the Delmarva Youth Regional Football Combine (DYRFC)? The Delmarva Youth Regional Football Combines are the premier youth athletic testing events. They are a great opportunity for top junior players, who aspire to play on the next level, to see where they stand with their peers and get accurate testing measurements by experienced performance specialists, coaches and scouts. Athletes must be in grades 6, 7 or 8 to participate. The combines are 100% non-contact. They are designed to give any athlete an opportunity to showcase their skills for college and high school coaches. The combine brings together the area's top 6th - 8th grade football players to work out in front of top scouts and high school and college coaches plus leading Internet recruiting sites. It's never too early to get exposure! Participation in a DYRFC combine could lead to a player being recruited to attend a major college football team's summer camp OR a well-known, successful high school for freshman year. The DYRFC combines can put a young player on the national college recruiting radar screen before they even begin high school. The combines are also a great opportunity to get standardized SPARQ Testing in a professional, well-organized setting. These testing results are the gold standard for college coaches who use these numbers to assess an athlete's football potential. It should be noted that combine results are not conclusive evidence of how well a player can or cannot play football, but only indicators. Coaches and scouts still place a large amount of emphasis on an athlete's ability to actually play the game on the field. The DYRFC combine give young players an advantage by learning how to better condition and train and how to properly prepare for combines BEFORE they get to high school. Most high school players have never participated in a combine before and this could contribute to them having a sub-par performance once involved in one and they might ultimately be passed over during recruiting.
